NO SEPARATE CARS Even if the Governor Did Recommend

COLUMBIA, S. C., December 20.—[Special.]—The house of representatives, by a vote of 64 to 26, has rejected the bill recommended by the governor in his annual message requiring railroads to provide separate cars for whites and blacks.

It was defeated on the ground, as expressed by leading members of the house, that the bill was not a proper exercise of the power of the legislature to regulate the railroads to great hardship and expense; and, on the other hand, there was no necessity for it, as the colored people, with but few exceptions, traveled on second-class cars, and as a rule were well behaved.

Large exceptions being at times when poor whites, who were not properly educated, were mixed with the colored people, and as a rule were well behaved.

KILRAIN'S APPEAL

TO GOVERNOR LOWERY OF MISSISSIPPI

HE BEGS FOR EXECUTIVE CLEMENCY

And Declares That He Had No Intention of Violating the Laws of the State—The Governor Refuses to Interfere.

JACKSON, Miss., December 20.—[Special.]—Murray F. Smith, of Vicksburg, law partner of Attorney-General Miller, reached here last evening, accompanied by Judge Kilrain, to ask that Governor Lowery remit the imprisonment imposed on Kilrain, upon his paying the fine of $200 and all costs. Mr. Smith is the governor of the executive mansion here, and this morning called with Kilrain at the request to urge clemency. Mr. Smith insisted in his appeal to the governor that the people throughout the country were in full accord with him in his efforts to arrest and bring to the bar of justice the parties who had defied the law; but he believed, and urged, that the people of the state would gladly see the two lightest released on payment of fines, and gave as evidence of his belief, the verdict of the jury in the Kilrain case.

KILRAIN FOR HIMSELF stated that he was not aware of the existence of such a statute, that he did not, nor ever had, wished to violate the laws of any state; that he was a large loser, and that sixty days in jail meant a great deal to him, and that he was willing to say anything that was honorable in extenuation of the offense. He evidently made a good impression on citizens of Vicksburg, and it is believed on Governor Lowery, by his modest and polite deportment. He is in jail.

A GOOD LOOKING MAN with easy manners, respectful in his bearing. After hearing all that Kilrain and his counsel had to say, Governor Lowery replied, that it was not the fighting of the two men, but the insult and indignity offered to the people of the commonwealth, in the face of proclamation and the calling out of troops to prevent it. He said:

"I acquit Sullivan and yourself, Mr. Kilrain, of any intention to defy the laws of Mississippi, but you were instruments in the hands of others, and, without inquiry or looking to the results, you obeyed the reckless and unscrupulous associates and flagrantly violated a special statute. Mr. Sullivan was convicted and sentenced to one year in the county jail. You were more fortunate, and, for some unexplained reason or action of the jury, you were convicted of the lesser offense, assault and battery, and sentenced to sixty days in jail, with a $200 fine. I fail to see the reason why you should be relieved of imprisonment, and your successful antagonist stand committed for twelve months.

I CANNOT INTERFERE in the matter; but, in February, when your cases are determined by the supreme court, if advised, you can then make your appeal to my successor. There were other participants in the fight more guilty than either Sullivan or yourself."

Quite a crowd gathered around the capitol while Kilrain was in the executive office. Every window of the office was besieged by reporters, and the door was thronged. During the interview, only the governor, his secretary, Kilrain, his attorney and your correspondent were present. Kilrain was neatly dressed.

SPoke VERY DEFERENTIALLY, and while the governor was very emphatic in his refusal of clemency, it was apparent that he was not without sympathy for Kilrain. He said that he was not a politician, and that he was not a politician, and that he was not a politician.

RECORD OF THE FLAMES

A Large Conflagration in New Orleans—Fires Elsewhere.

ST. LOUIS, December 20.—The large six-story building, 319 and 321 North Third street, and having also a frontage on Locust street in the shape of an "L," was totally destroyed by fire at 1 o'clock this morning. The fire caught in the basement and the flames rushing up the elevators soon spread throughout the building, and in less than an hour it was a mass of ruins. The Guernsey-Scudder electric light occupied the third story basement, the Commercial Printing company the first, second, third and fourth floors, and the two upper stories were used by Dickinson & Haws, shoe manufacturers.

On the Locust street side the first floor was occupied by Gust Bros., dealers in bookbinders' stocks, and the upper stories by the Commercial Printing company. Over three hundred people were employed in the building, and had the fire occurred in the daytime there would doubtless have been a fearful loss of life.

Old Mechanics' bank building, 317 Third street, adjoining on the south, was crushed by falling walls and nearly destroyed. This was occupied by Kohn & Co., bankers and brokers; Carroll & Howell, insurance agents; Grottel, Bowman & Co., and St. Louis Mining exchange.

Two or three small story buildings adjoining on Locust street were also crushed, but losses at this point were immaterial. The total loss by fire is roughly estimated at between $150,000 and $200,000, but the individual losses are not yet ascertained. The use of the name of the Burrell Constock company in connection with the fire was a mistake. They were in no way involved, and are not damaged a cent.

Large Fire in Franklinton, N. C. FRANKLINTON, N. C., December 20.—The town of Franklinton, about twenty-five miles from Raleigh, was almost totally destroyed by fire about daylight this morning. The fire originated in a barroom and swept the whole business part of the town. Fifteen buildings were consumed, and the loss is estimated at from twenty-five to thirty thousand dollars. Not more than one-third of the property was saved. Several hundred bales of cotton on the platform of the Raleigh and Gaston depot were in imminent danger, but were saved by being placed on flat cars and pulled off to a safe distance. This is the second destructive fire which has visited Franklinton, within the past two months.

A SICKENING SUICIDE. MILB Ballabosch Tears Out His Intestines. SAN FRANCISCO, December 20.—A suicide remarkable for its sickening details and its interest from a medical point of view occurred here today, in which Milo Ballabosch was the victim. He was the owner of a coffee saloon on the corner of Mission and Stuart streets, and on Sunday last complained of having excruciating pains in the region of the abdomen. He grew rapidly worse, and his friends finally had him conveyed to the French hospital for treatment. He escaped, however, but was found by a friend, who contrived to get into the room where he was made comfortable for the night.

At 5 o'clock in the morning he aroused his friend by awful ravings, and on awaking a horrible sight met his eyes. Standing stark naked in the middle of the room was Ballabosch, his lower extremities bathed in blood, and across his abdomen was a slash fully four inches long. It was a ghastly and bloody sight, and Milo's hand was raised to his face, crying out in sections and throwing them in a heap on the floor.

The officers grappled with the maniac, but notwithstanding his frightful loss of blood he still possessed the strength of half a dozen men. After struggling with them for some time he was carried to the hospital, where he died at 9 o'clock.

THE CITY MARSHAL GIVES ONE OF THEM A Lively Chase. TROY, Ala., December 20.—[Special.]—He twelve and one o'clock this morning, City Marshal Sanders heard the dull, heavy thud of a hammer, as though striking upon iron, in the postoffice. Investigation showed that a burglar was inside the office, behind a pile of mail sacks and an open umbrella, to prevent being seen through the glass front mail box. The burglar was a negro. The marshal made sufficient noise to arrest the burglar's attention, and being frightened, he broke through the north window of the office and ran with rapid speed down the street. The marshal ran after the fleeing burglar for about three hundred yards, and fired four shots at him. It was a manly and daring feat, and the burglar was not hurt. Investigation by the postmaster showed the hinges of the safe were broken, and the knob of the day-lock knocked off. The combination of the safe can now only be used by means of a monkey wrench. This is the second burglary of the Troy postoffice within the past few weeks. Postmaster Tilley has reported the matter.

HENDERSON Bros. & Co. had their store burglarized last night. The entrance was effected through the south window of their store, near the desk. The window was iron barred. The bars were secreted after being broken, and diligent search fails to reveal their location. The cash drawer of the store was broken open, but there was no money in the till, no cash was secured. Nothing is missing from the store. The burglar left an old pair of shoes, which furnish the only clue yet obtained as to who he was. It is a question whether the same burglar discovered in the postoffice first tried Henderson's store, or if there were two of them.

COLLISION BETWEEN BRITISH STEAMERS. LONDON, December 20.—A collision occurred today south of the Isle of Wight between the British steamers Cleddy, from Odessa, December 3 for Antwerp, and the Isle of Cyprus, which was bound from Stockton for an European port. The Cleddy was so badly damaged that she sank. Several of her crew reached the land in safety, but thirteen others are missing. The Cleddy was an iron, bristled, screw steamer of 1,385 tons, and was owned in Cardiff. The Isle of Cyprus is of 722 tons register.

Explosion of a Magazine. ST. PETERSBURG, December 20.—A shell exploded today in the artillery magazine at Bakur, causing a general explosion of all magazines stored there and the destruction of the building. The noise of exploding shells and rockets, followed by a general explosion. One hundred thousand cartridges were destroyed. Four persons were killed and four injured.

THE UNFORTUNATE CHILDREN

Another Death From an Accident at a Rehearsal.

DETROIT, December 20.—Another victim is added to the disaster to the Tilden school last evening by the death of Bertha Moody, aged fourteen. She was terribly burned about the waist, and was unconscious from the time of the accident until her death this morning. Nellie Thatcher, aged fourteen, was terribly burned about the waist, and the chances for her recovery are slight. Lucy Renshaw is also badly burned about the neck and arms. Her recovery is doubtful. Edna Fonda, aged thirteen, was frightfully burned about the head and face. Her hair is falling out. There are no hopes of her recovery. Nellie Westgate was badly burned about the upper portions of the body and her head seriously scorched. Her injuries are thought to be fatal. Edith Wheeler, aged seventeen; Edna Holland, aged thirteen, and Besse Bamford, aged fourteen, were all seriously burned, but there are strong hopes entertained for their recovery. Their condition is not such as to cause great anxiety to their parents and friends.

He Blew Out the Gas. BALTIMORE, December 20.—William Firth, of Front Royal, Va., was found dead this morning in his room at the Niagara house, having been overcome by gas. He had probably blown out the gas last night, as the cock was turned on. He had just arrived here last night.

AT THE THEATER.

What a funny fellow Roland Reed is. He's a genius in his fun making—a genius and no mistake. If any man in America possesses the happy faculty of bringing enjoyment to his fellow men, it is the same Roland Reed; and that he puts that faculty to excellent use, everybody who has seen him in either "The Woman Hater," or any of the other comedies which he has brought to us, will bear hearty testimony. An evening with him is an evening of thorough enjoyment.

Mr. Reed is easily Atlanta's favorite comedian.

The successes he has won here are many. Two years ago he played "The Woman Hater" here for the first time before any audience, and his success in the play was instantaneous. His success was doubled —trebled—last season, when he made one of the longest jumps on record in order that he might fill the Atlanta date. "The Woman Hater" was the big thing last night, and the big crowd was carried away by this funniest of American comedies. Although the name of John T. Raymond is connected with the early production of this play, the role of Samuel Bundy is peculiarly Roland Reed's, and gives him an excellent opportunity to display his powers as a comedian. The comedy is one of the most delicious kind, and

Samuel Bundy is one of the funniest characters of modern fiction.

Reed is excellently supported this year. The gentlemen in the company are in the main the same as last year. Mr. Ernest Bartram, in the character of George Dobbin, gives an artistic and most highly enjoyable performance. Mr. Smith,

Mr. Davies, Mr. Andrews and Mr. Julian Reed are all very good. Mr. Andrews is the new face, taking the part Mr. Leslie had, and was a favorite. The ladies of the company are Miss Alice, Miss

Rush, an exceedingly handsome lady, appears as Mrs. Joy. She dresses beautifully and proves herself a thoroughly capable actress fully equal to the demands of the part. Miss Ruth Carpenter is petite and pretty as Alice. She too, was a favorite. Mrs. Myers and all the other members of the company are thoroughly capable, and the comedy takes better than ever. That is saying a great deal.

Mr. Reed was called before the curtain at the end of the third act, and in a pretty little speech thanked his audience for his reception. In his remarks he called attention to his new farcical comedy, "American Assurance," which he will produce for the first time tonight.

The comedy is by two famous dramatic writers, Messrs. Jessop and Gill. Mr. Jessop has written a number of funny comedies, among them "Sam of Posen" and others. Mr. Gill wrote

Dixey's "Adonis" and his new play "Seven Ages."

This new play Mr. Reed considers the funniest of all those which have been submitted to him. The company has rehearsed it more than forty times, and tonight's performance will be as smooth as any could be. Those who have seen the rehearsals say the play is one of the funniest ever put on the stage.

THE REFORM SCHOOL.

THE COMMITTEES COME TOGETHER AND GET TO WORK.

John Van Epps Shows the Gentlemen the great good the Reformatories in Other Cities Are Accomplishing.

The Atlanta reformatory was given an enthusiastic and promising start yesterday afternoon by the gentlemen having the work in charge.

Grand Sunday mass meeting has been arranged.

The committee appointed by Mayor Proctor, in conference with a request from the Atlanta reformatory to confer with the committee of '86, convened in Judge Van Epps's chamber yesterday afternoon.

The committee of '86, composed of Messrs. Howell, Antone Kontz, P. J. Moran, J. L. Woodward and Joseph Hirsch, of the committee.

The citizens committee was not represented. For a half hour the gentlemen discussed the reformatory in an informal manner, Judge Van Epps giving them the benefit of the vast amount of knowledge he has acquired by correspondence since the reformatory was first proposed. The work in New York, Philadelphia, San Francisco, Chicago and other cities is a familiar theme to Judge Van Epps, so familiar that he investigated it. Plans of the buildings and designs of the buildings in all the states have been acquired, and these were exhibited to the present.

The study was as interesting as it was new, and every one decided that a reformatory was a blessing to any city.

The work of the session was begun by making Mr. Howell, chairman and Dr. Hopkins, secretary. Mr. Howell said that he realized the necessity of the reformatory and was extremely anxious to see it built.

"So anxious am I," said he, "to see the reformatory established that I say now I will do everything in my power to secure it. I regret very much indeed that the general council cannot give the movement a pecuniary assistance, but I think I am safe in saying that the body will do it as far as legally possible."

"We do not look for money from the council," said Judge Van Epps, "because we know that the charter prevents that. But we thought the city might give us the land."

"There is an abundance of land around the city," said Mr. Woodward, "should the city be moved there is no reason why the city could not give a couple hundred acres of land there. Even if the works are not moved the city could give the land."

Some one suggested that the water shed should not be occupied.

"The home can go down below," said Mr. Woodward. "If it is put on the waterworks ground it can be put below the reservoir, and that would in no way interfere with anything."

"I think," said Mr. Moran, "that when the people of Atlanta are shown the necessity for this reformatory, as Judge Van Epps has shown it to us; when they see the great good it can do, as we see it through the words of Judge Van Epps, there will be no doubt about the success of the school. Atlanta always finds a way out of every difficult problem and will do this time."

Judge Van Epps suggested a grand mass meeting of citizens at DeGue's opera house on Sunday night.

"I think that a good idea," said Mr. Kontz, "that meeting the people could be shown the necessity for the reformatory."

"Is Sunday night a good time?" asked Mr. Hirsch. "Won't the churches interfere?"

"Sunday suits me, but we want to make this a great success. We ought to devise a scheme which we can raise the money, and raise it."

"I feel assured," said Judge Van Epps, "that if we can get it started the state will help us. The Philadelphia home was started that way, and then the state took it up. If we can arouse the enthusiasm of the good people and start it, only a short time will elapse before Savannah, Macon, Columbus and other cities will want to be sending children to it. Then we can secure state aid."

"If the legislature started it," said Mr. Moran, "and it was located in Atlanta, 'the one would expect Atlanta to give something. I've gone around now and start it, we will have a nucleus around which the state can build. I think the Sunday mass meeting is a good idea, and move that we call one for Sunday night week at the opera house, and that we request the press to announce it, and request the ministers to do the same from their several pulpits on that Sunday morning."

Judge Van Epps offered an amendment appointing a committee of three to inform the ministers of the city, and request them to close churches, cathedrals and synagogues and attend the meeting.

The motion prevailed, and Chairman Howell appointed Mr. Moran, Mr. Hirsch, Judge Van Epps, Mr. Kontz and Mr. Woodward.

The committee was instructed to, to secure speakers for the evening.

Judge Van Epps spoke hopefully of the work, and was much enthused by the meeting.

"If we can get enough members by the fifty-dollar-a-year plan," said he, "on the plan of ten dollars a year, we will succeed. The reformatory in Philadelphia sends out barbers, shoemakers, chairmakers and typewriter makers, and they become useful men instead of hardened criminals. There they have plenty of land and every little fellow is given a patch. This does great good, and they work hard to secure some—they are given what they make of it. Our only trouble will be the four departments we will have. One for white males, one for black males, one for white females and one for black females."

The committee will meet next Friday to perfect a plan to present to the mass meeting.

"It's only a question of time," and a short time, too, as to when your enthusiasm will yield to Hood's Sarsaparilla. Try it.

No Christmas and New Year's table should be without a bottle of Angostura Bitters, the world renowned appetizer of exquisite flavor. Beware of counterfeits.

That tired, languid feeling and dull headache is very disagreeable. Take two of Carter's Little Liver Pills before retiring, and you will find relief. They never fail to do good.

CLASSIC ATHENS

THE GREAT EDUCATIONAL CENTER OF GEORGIA.

Growing City Set in the Heart of a Fertile Country—The Trade Upon Which It Thrives—New Enterprises Meditated.

ATHENS, Ga., December 11.—[Special.] Athens has always had the reputation of being an educational center, and a very deserved one too; but while still retaining this, she is fast acquiring a reputation of a different kind, and is already becoming one of Georgia's best business centers. The rapid strides made in the duration of her year just past, evince the determination of her citizens to make a great city here, and the signs of progress seen on every hand point to a great and glorious future for our city. Surrounded by a country so fertile as is to be found in Georgia, and having within its grasp all the country's natural resources, any city in the state, there seems to be no impediment in her way to success and prosperity. The year just closing has been abundant in blessings to our people. The farmer has reaped bumper harvests from his fields, and his old debts, retired to the past, even with the world, and is ready to start in with the new year with increased energy and more fervent ardor. The merchant has more smiles today than he had a year ago for his trade on the increase. The cotton buyers announce an increased business, and the railroads continue to prosper. Under these auspicious circumstances the new year will open up on Athens.

PROMINENT CITIZENS TALK.

Mayor John A. Hunnicutt, who has held the reins of city government for the past four years, in a very interesting manner of the condition of business and the prospects for the next year. Under his administration the town had prospered much, and he said his fact here to see it advance more rapidly than it had ever done. His business is with the Bank of the University and also as a contractor, and it was an interesting story told today that his business was on a firmer base today than it was for many years. The farmers have been unusually prompt in taking up their notes, and everything has been so successful that the contractors and building lines business has been very fine. Viewing the general business of Athens as a whole, he said he was inclined to think that it would seem to Athens has a bright future before her," said Mayor Hunnicutt, "and all she needs is the united efforts of her citizens and I am sure that she will see the necessary things done in the future very willingly."

Mayor-elect Edward T. Brown, in his practical and business way said: "The business condition of Athens is never so bright as the future of Athens is bright. There is today a general confidence among the people, hitherto unknown, and a feeling and firm conviction of the future of Athens in the highest sense of the word. This feeling is not confined to the few; it is general and is especially noticeable among the merchants. Farming lands are selling at twenty-five per cent more than it was a year ago, and this is due not to any special improvement in the land itself but to the nearness of the land to it. To illustrate this assertion I land in four miles of the city sold one year ago at public auction, for seven to eight dollars per acre. It will bring today for the same land twenty-five dollars an acre. The general prosperous condition of the farmers is going to have a great and special influence on Athens. It will increase its trade and prosperity in a future year. Athens is growing. Then, again, as soon as any of our farmers near Athens get well enough off they come to Athens to get the great benefits to be derived from the city. They come to the banks, colleges and university. The road to success for our city is a clear and open one as I view it."

Captain J. H. Rucker, when met on the corner between Adams and Third streets, looked, as it was very bright indeed. He is in the cotton business, and is one of our most representative men, doing a large and flourishing business. He said that his receipts for the year would be about ninety thousand bales, which is a considerable increase over last year. The farmers," said he, "are doing better than they did last year, and a great number may be holding back their cotton, which fact will keep us from reaching the 100,000 bales set up as a goal at the beginning of the year."

Captain C. W. Talmadge, one of our largest wholesale grocers, was seen and he was jubilant over the prospect of Athens. Business is in a fine condition this year, and he said that the main advance made by the farmers on account of the splendid crop year," said he, "is the payment of old debts. For a long time this country has been in a sorry state, and was badly in debt. This has been lifted steadily now, and both farmers and merchant are breathing easier." Captain Talmadge was looking with great interest at the Athens and Georgia, and Southern, which event he says will do Athens more good than has ever been dreamed of by its most devoted advocates.

Mr. J. H. Rucker, a great dry goods man, reported larger sales than during preceding seasons, especially in the retail line of his business, which he enlarged very much. He said that the twenty dollar store, one of our leading merchants and among the most public spirited citizens of Athens, is placing great faith in the future of Athens. He reports an excellent business, and that the general outlook for the business is firmer than usual.

Mr. D. W. McGregor, the popular book store man, says that the average student is doing a better business than he did last year, and consequently he is carrying on an advantage a larger stock of goods than he has before.

Other references could be made to show that the business of Athens is firm and in the advance.

NEW ENTERPRISES.

Athens has several new enterprises to start the New Year with.

The first great work is to build a new hotel. The citizens meet at the council chamber tomorrow night to discuss the question of building one man or set of men are leading in this movement. It is a general demand, which will not be the erection of a seventy-five thousand dollar hotel.

There is now being established a new evening paper, as the consolidation of the old papers has hardly been settled down. The citizens are very anxious to see Athens publish this enterprise. Competition is the life trade, and it will have to struggle pretty hard, as the consolidated paper has a very large circulation.

Our popular furniture man, Mr. J. B. Comer, has on foot a scheme to erect a factory to manufacture furniture. If carried out, it will be a great benefit to Athens.

The electric light will be a new departure for Athens. Under the management of Mr. W. A. Robinson, the plant is being built, and the poles arranged all over the city. By January 1st the electric light of thirty full arc lights will beam on Athens.

The city park question is no longer a question of doubt. Mr. John T. Voss, of the street railroad, wishes to build a park. It is probable that his plan will be adopted, and the city will have a first-class park without any cost. Two beautiful places have been eyed, and one of them will be selected.

Other enterprises are being projected, and very many more are now looking up for a profitable place where he can put his money. Our citizens will be busy during the new year with new enterprises.

A short while since and a great many railroads were talked of for Athens, and, indeed, that prospects of bringing them here, but just recently a great interest in Athens has been manifested in the Georgia, Carolina and Northern, which is coming rapidly through North Carolina, and is now within twenty-five miles of the Savannah river. It has already a dozen of our most substantial citizens, of Georgia, Carolina and Northern road means more for Athens than all her other enterprises or chances of making money together. When it comes, Athens will blossom as the rose, and prosperity will come in a great measure.

Captain Rucker and Captain Talmadge are confident that the new road will double her population in ten years. The people of Athens are not going to let loose of their chances for other roads, and will put every energy will be bent towards insuring Athens to the Georgia, Carolina and Northern.

LAST YEAR'S WORK.

Athens accomplished a great deal last year, and she has secured her beautiful

Y. M. C. A. building, also the new sand dollars; costing twenty thousand dollars; also a half dozen Bioshops costing five thousand dollars, and an innumerable number of smaller houses, I has been a great building year.

It has been a great year in the manufacturing line. Her factories have been greatly improved. High Shoals and Georgia factories have made additions to their works, and a Barnett Shoals large new factories have been erected.

Several warehouses have been built, and a
to receive the increased trade.

A great fair was held, and was the most successful thing of its kind ever held in northeast Georgia. It showed what Athens county do, and inspired new energy in every heart.
It was a great financial success also.

Lastly, it has consummated a great consolidation of newspapers, and a united patronage of the new Banner means success.

With the splendid year just past behind them, and the hopeful future ahead, Athenians look forward with great interest to the developments of next year.

Confidence Begot of Success.

So confident are the manufacturers of the world-famed remedy, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, that it will do all that they re-scent, in the cure of liver, blood and lung diseases, that, after witnessing its thousands of cures for many years past, they now feel warranted in selling it (as they are doing, through-drugists) under a positive guarantee of its giving satisfaction in every case, or money paid for it will be refunded. No medicine of ordinary merit could be sold under such severe conditions with profit to its proprietors, and no other medicine for the diseases for which it is recommended was ever before sold under a guarantee of a cure or no pay. In all blood taints and impurities of whatever name or nature, it is most positive in its curative effects. Pimples, bores, eruptions and all skin and scalp diseases are radically cured by this wonderful medicine. Scrofulous disease may affect the glands, causing swelling or tumors; the bones causing "fever-sore," "white swellings" or
"hip-joint disease," or the tissues of the lungs, causing pulmonary consumption. No matter in which one of its myriad forms it crops out it will be refunded. "Golden Medical Discovery" will cure it if used perseveringly and in time.

Its thousands of cures are the best advertisements for Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy.
